

I will sing

I will sing to chase the blues away

And when I'm down I know that I can pray

On the journey if I shed a tear

There is love that casts away all fear

Chorus

I will stand in hope that makes me strong

Faith can see although the journey's long

Love endures until the final day

There's away, there's a way

Reflections now are all that I can see

But on that day then face to face I'll be

I cannot know though I am fully known

Till at last I find my way back home

Chorus
